Volcano Theatre Puts Out An SOS

Last summer as the set was being constructed on our outdoor amphitheatre stage, some irregularities, sponginess and uneven patches were noticed and a note was made to further investigate and set aside a few dollars for repairs.

After "James and the Giant Peach" closed, the plywood decking was removed, as is done at the end of every summer season, and portions of the next layer, large cedar planking, was also removed in order to get a good look at what lie below. Once this Pandora's Box was opened, there was no going back!

Given that the weather, humidity, proximity to the creek, constant damp soil and the fact that the substructure never sees the light of day or a cool breeze, there should have been no surprise that almost all of the supporting beams were completely rotted. The structure, after all, is 30 years old! And it isn't just the "stage" area, but the entire Green Room Area behind the stage, where all the actors prepare and wait for their cue to step out under the lights!

Suddenly, we have found ourselves going from "some minor repairs" to a COMPLETE TEAR DOWN and rebuild of the entire stage/green room area!

Enter the SAVE OUR STAGE 2020 CAMPAIGN! As always, we ARE a 501c3 non-profit corporation, so your participation in this important fundraiser is tax deductible! We APPRECIATE your support !
